Employes to Quit Work. A DESPERATE BATTLE IMINENT

The Men Have So Far Been Held Back by the Amalgamated Association--The Most Important Move of the Big Strike Yet to Come-An Interview with Vice President' Sheehan of the Association.

PITTSBURG, PA., July 12 .- The rumor that the men employed in all works controlled by the Carnegies would quit work if non-union men were introduced at Homestead is assuming tangible form. President Weihe this morning practically admitted that this would be done, but would not state so officially. The mills affected would be the Edgar Thompson steel works at Braddock, the Beesemer works at Duquesne, the Union Iron Mills and Keystone Bridge company of this city, and the steel plant at Beaver Falls, Pa. Upwards of 20,000 men are employed at the various plants.

The men at Braddock and Dusquesne have met with crushing defeat, and these facts were urged by Mr. Frick in a recent interview as one reason why the Carnegie Company has no fear that they will not win at Homestead. At Braddock the Knights of Labor were defeated, and at Dusquesne the Amalgamated Association. An organization was maintained, but in a rather imperfect shape, and the men had about given up hope that they would ever be able to accomplish anything as an organized body. The existing troubles at Homestead have been taken up as their own and it is their intention to desert The men at Braddock and Dusquesne own and it is their intention to desert the big steel plant to make the burden of the company more disagreeable. It is not unreasonable to say that within a week the number of idle steel workers will be four times as great as today.

THEY WANT TO HELP.

Vice-President Sheehau of the Amalgamated Association, was asked yesterlay if it was true as reported in the past forty-eight hours that the Association is making an effort to induce the men at all the Carnegio mills to quit work and force the issue of labor organization or no labor organization in the plants controlled by that company. "I don't think that report is true,"

"Tollet Mr. Sheehan.
"Do you know of any work of that kind being done?"
"I do not."
"You would know, of course, if that were the case?"

"Certainly, and I know that it is not being done."

"In the case of the Union mills and the one at Beaver Falls, where the scale has been accepted, could the Association justify itself in calling out the men employed there?"

"And Mr. Shoe."

"It has not been done," said Mr. Shee-

"Is there any way by which the asso-ciation could permit itself to persuade ciation could permit itself to persuado men to come out a mill working under the scale? In fact, would it not be contrary to your law and practice to do so?" "Yes, it would," replied the vice president reflectively; "it would be against law, practice and policy." Then he added interrogatively after a pause:
"But suppose the men come out themselves? What then?"
"Is such a thing likely to occur?"

eelves? What then?"

"Is such a thing likely to occur?"

"Not only likely, but reasonably certain to take place."

"Can the association afford to incur."

"Can the association anora to incur
the risk of an impeachment of its honor
by allowing such a thing at Thirty-third street and Beaver Falls?"

"Ordinarily no, we could not," said
Mr. Sheehan. "but in this instance it is not a case of what we can do, but what we cannot do."

DETERMINED TO FIGHT.

"I may tell you that the rumor you spoke of is incorrect. We have not tried to persuade the men in the other mills to quit work and will not attempt it. It will not be necessary. In fact, for several days we have been doing all we can to keep those men at work. We have talked long and earnestly with them and succeeded in holding them in their places, but it will not last much longer. They have decided to quit work and are determined to join in the work and are determined to join in the fight. They cannot be blamed, either, as Mr. Frick, by his own declaration, has made labor organizations the point in dispute. It is no longer a question of wages, but a struggle for the maintenance of organizations. The challenge thrown down by the Carnegie company has attracted the attention of the world, and naturally those men at Braddock and naturally those men at Braddock and Duquesne who have been defeated feel like taking part. It will be a big thing to handle." "Do you think you can accom-plish it?"

plish it?"

"We are not trying to accomplish it. The thing is accomplishing itself and is now beyond our control. It is bound to come, judging from present indications. It is an assistance which will care for itself and do good service at the same time."

"What do the association and the

What do the association and the men

"What do the association and the men at Homestead think of the calling out of the military?"

"It is a good thing and the people up there are more pleased than otherwise. They feel a relief, too, in the fact that the men who will go up are our own people, who are familiar with the situation and in touch, so to speak, with the whole matter. They know that they are safer than if strange soldiers were to take control. My own opinion is that take control. My own opinion is that the excitement over this strike has not begun yet."

"Do you think that the people at Homestend will come into conflict with the military?"

"Oh, dear, no; Ididn't mean anything of that sort. There will be other things. We will make a change in tactics and the country will see something worth looking at. No, there will be no more bloodshed, and I am sorry that there was any disorder at all."

CURE FOR CROUP.—Use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil according to directions. It is the best remedy for all sudden attacks of colds, pain and inflammation, and injuries

In another column of this paper will In another column of this paper will be found an advertisement of a medicine known as Chamborlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, for sale by druggists of Wheeling. In almost every neighborhood throughout the west, there are some one or more persons, whose lives have been saved by this remedy. It is natural for such persons to take especial pleasure in recommending the remedy to others. The praise that follows its introduction and use makes it immensely popular. While it is intended especially for colic, cholera morbus, dysenlery and diarrhœa, it is also claimed to cure chronic diarrhœa. If such be the case, it is diarrhœa. If such be the case, it is certainly a "God-send" to many a poor mortal. WHOLESALE PRICES.

Notwilhatshiding the plethora of funds awaiting investment in the city, accurities still languish, though prices are well held. The silver agitation is in all probability the most important of the influences in creating this state of sfairs, but the labor troubles in Fennsylvania and the anti-orition bill have also their effect in deterring operations of a speculative or investment nature. The market in the meantime undergoes no change in its characteristics, and while there is undoubtedly a large interest by either the public or the more influential operators, throws the making of prices into the nands of the professional traders who in consequence of the prevailing dullness are beartshy inclined, though quick to change their position on the market and cautions in their operations. You drink it for pleasure, and get physical benefit. A wholesome, refreshing, appetizing, thirst quenching drink. One package makes five gallons.

Don't be deceived if a dealer, for the sake of larger profit, tells you some other kind is "just as good "—'tis false. No imitation is as good as the genuine Hrass".

They all Testify World-Rang Specific. The old-time simple remedy from the Georgia warms and fields has some forth to the entiredes, astorishing the skeppicel and comfounding the theories of these who depend soldy on the physician's atil. There is no blood taint which it does not immediately cradicate. Poisons cutwardly aborbed or the result of vilo diseases from within all yield to this potent but simple remedy. It is an unequaled tools, builds up the old and freebe, curse all diseases arising from impure blood or weakened vitality. Send for a treatise, Examino the proof.
